MEN'S GLEE CLUB RENDERS ANNUAL HOME CONCERT IN BOMBERGER HALL, FRIDAY

Miss Hartenstine's Chorus Responded
With Best Work Displayed
During the Entire Season

BROADCAST FROM W I P, PHILA.

Two appearances were made by the Glee Club during last week. On Thursday, April 12, the Club, under the direction of Miss Jeanette Douglas Hartenstine, broadcast an hour of music from W I P, Philadelphia. The chorus numbers broadcast by the club were rendered with excellent tonal shadings, and with a fire and snap which has seldom, if ever, been equalled during the current season of concerts. "A Plainsman's Song" and "Land Sighting" deserve especial mention among the group of chorus numbers.

In addition to the numbers by the Glee Club, Peterson played Strong's "Francesca Polka" on the trumpet, while Scheirer's violin solo "Canzonetta" by d'Ambrosio furnished another pleasing diversion from the regular program of chorus numbers.

Home Concert in Bomberger

The Glee Club rose to new heights in the home concert, given in Bomberger Hall Friday, April 22. Miss Hartenstine's baton brought out new delicacies in intonation and shading, the Club responding with the best work displayed during the entire season. All the choral numbers were done with excellent interpretation, and the rendition of "Land Sighting," "Song of the Jolly Roger," and "Song of the Marching Men," among the heavier numbers deserved rounds of applause. The unaccompanied numbers, especially "Swedish Melody," and "The Lotus Flower" were well done.

Due to sickness, two substitutions had to be made in the quartette, but they deserve credit for the manner in which they rendered the "Gypsy Trail."

Soloists Do Well

The soloists were all at their best. Scheirer played Wieniawski's "Romance." This number, taken from his Concerto for violin and orchestra, was well rendered, and showed artistic interpretation. Peterson again showed good technique in his trumpet rendition of the "Francesca Polka," while Wel-

WOMEN'S DORM COMMITTEE

HOLDS MANY BENEFITS

A large number of the women students of Ursinus were very busy during the Easter recess working on affairs to raise money for the Women's Dormitory Fund. Two hundred dollars was realized to repay the efforts of the many students, alumni, and friends.

The first of the benefits was a bake sale at Pottstown sponsored by Miss Miriam Ludwig, '28. A card party at Farmingdale, N. J., was given by Miss Sally Shaffo, '30, later in the recess. Miss Marion Werner, '27, had charge of a benefit moving picture at Bangor. Misses Kathryn Reimert, '27, and Ruth von Steuben, '28, sponsored a bake sale at Allentown, ably assisted by Miss Miriam Ehret, '27, of Bethlehem. Miss Claire Frank, '28, of York, had charge of a card party on the last day of the vacation. Money has been pledged for the fund by the Woman's Clubs of several communities, the amounts of which will be published later.

A financial report of the activities of the Easter vacation is as follows:

Bangor Moving Picture	$13.50
Farmingdale Card Party	22.00
Pottstown Bake Sale	37.60
York Card Party	35.00
Allentown Bake Sale	95.00
Total	$203.10

PATTERSON FIELD TO BE RENOVATED THIS SPRING

Patterson Field will soon be torn up, leveled off, and graded so as to complete the track which surrounds the field and at the same time the 220-yd. straightaway will be brought out so that the finishing mark will be in front of the Field Cage. By fall it is hoped that Patterson Field will have a nice green appearance with a heavy sod on top. Meanwhile the baseball squad has secured part of the local high school athletic field and the freshmen are busy finishing a diamond, which the college will use for the remainder of the season.

1927 RUBY APPEARS ON CAMPUS AND IS REVIEWED BY PROFESSOR SHEEDER

Bound in Rich Blue and Gold Cover
Appearance of Book is at Once
Impressive and Inviting

CAMPUS PHOTOGRAPHS FINE

"The Ruby par excellence" would be an appropriate designation for the 1927 year book just off the press. Never has there been anything quite like it to come from the hands of an Ursinus Ruby staff. New in design, clever in construction and unique in conception, the class of 1927 may be justly proud of its Annual, which is destined to serve as a model for classes of the future.

Bound in a rich blue and gold cover, the appearance of the book is at once impressive and inviting. Within, from beginning to end, a rich blue color scheme is preserved and as one turns the pages exclamations of surprise and wonder come spontaneously.

The campus photographs are particularly good. There are some never before photographed; and the old scenes, which never become tiresome, have been reproduced with a newness that is most striking. The feature section is also deserving of commendation and is notable for its freedom from smuttiness which so often characterizes college annuals.

No pains have been spared to make the book attractive in every respect and one marvels at the completeness with which every detail has been worked out. The whole publication is a tribute to the untiring work of the editor-in-chief and his assistants and is an evidence of the cooperative efforts of all.

The literary work in the book is good. Much care has been exercised in the composition and arrangement of the write-ups, but one is rather disappointed that so many typographical errors were allowed to creep into the text. However, this is a matter of minor importance in a publication of this kind and everything else is

RUTH VON STEUBEN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF W. S. G. A.

On Tuesday evening, April 19, the W. S. G. A. held a special mass meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. The nominations had been made previously. Ruth von Steuben was elected president by a majority vote. Miss Von Steuben has been a capable member of the Student Council for three years and is well fitted for her new office. Because no majority vote was secured by any of the nominees for the other offices, it was necessary to call another meeting on Wednesday at 12.30, when the following new officers received the required number of votes: Vice-president, Mary Jo Thomason; Treasurer, Sarah Hoffer; Secretary, Florence Benjamin. At separate meetings on Thursday at 12.30 the Sophomores elected Helen Wismer as the Junior representative to the Student Council for the coming year.

ZWINGLIAN PRODUCTION MOST SUCCESSFUL PLAY GIVEN IN RECENT YEARS

Capacity House Witnesses "The Fool"
in Celebrating Fifty Seventh Anniversary of Society

CAST PERFORMS BRILLIANTLY

One of the most successful plays presented at Ursinus in recent years was "The Fool" by Channing Pollock given by Zwinglian Literary Society on its fifty-seventh anniversary, April 1. Professor and Mrs. Franklin Sheeder, directors of the play, worked untiringly on the production and the results showed their capable and skillful coaching.

The play is very skillfully written, containing many clever lines and displaying throughout remarkable workmanship. The contrasts between the lives of Gilchrist's parishioners of the so-called better classes and those whom he later helped, and also the changes he wrought in the lives of the latter are cleverly portrayed.

Howard Schink, '29, in the leading role as Daniel Gilchrist made his first appearance in Ursinus dramatics and played his difficult part extremely well, and throughout the entire performance held the rapt attention of the whole audience. Clare Jewett, who learns by bitter experience that wealth and social position do not give lasting happiness, was well portrayed

"SEVENTH HEAVEN" TO BE PRESENTED BY JR. CLASS

Cast Chosen Gives Promise of Unusually Fine Production

TO BE PRESENTED MAY 13

"Seventh Heaven" has been selected by the Junior class to be presented, according to custom, for the 1928 Ruby benefit. Professor and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder have consented to coach the production, and high hopes are entertained for its success.

"Seventh Heaven" by Austin Strong, is a modern play with abundant action and clever lines. It is quite different from any plays recently put on at Ursinus in that the scene is laid in the Montmartre district of Paris as it was just before and during the World War. Here, between a typical wine-shop, disreputable in appearance, and the "Church of the Heavenly Angels" we see the first act of a snappy, humorous, yet worthwhile drama which will hold undivided interest thruout.

The cast has been chosen and promises an unusually fine production. The characters are:

NEW CAMPUS SHRUBBERY IS GIFT OF ADOLPH MULLER

The College is indebted to Adolph Muller, of Norristown, nurseryman and florist, for the elaborate planting of shrubbery on the east campus during the past two weeks. One hundred and fifty settings of hardy hydrangea, "hills of snow," adorn the path on either side leading from the entrance to the campus around by the Library to Bomberger Hall, and beautiful pines and flowering shrubs have been planted on either side of the Library entrance and at other appropriate spots on the campus. All are the gift of Mr. Muller.

ANNUAL MAY DAY PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN IN THE COLLEGE WOODS SATURDAY, MAY 14

Practices Already Begun for the Different Groups Participating in Various Dances

MISS HELEN ERRET DIRECTOR

Just as in Merry England the students of Ursinus and their friends will have the pleasure of "going-a-May-ing" to the college woods on Saturday afternoon, May 14th, at three o'clock. At that time the Ursinus women under the direction of Miss Helen Erret will present the annual May Day Pageant.

The pageant was written by Adelaide Hathaway '27 with the help of the senior expression class. The plot shows the struggle between the Spirit of the Woods and the Spirit of the Court for the May Queen, Kathryn Reimert. Each endeavors to entice her by showing the charms and joys of life in its realm. In her choice she is guided by a youth which role is taken by Bertha Weaver '27.

Many of the girls are participating in the event in the various dances so characteristic of early May festivals in which the spirit of nature predominates. Already practices have begun for the different groups. The committees in charge are working hard to make the fete a success.

The music used in connection with the pageant is in charge of Bertha Weaver '27. Mary Stickler has under her direction the costumes and decorations. The programs and admission fees will be taken care of by Adelaide Hathaway. An admission of thirty-five cents with an additional sum for some reserved seats will be charged to help defray expenses.

DR. J. M. S. ISENBERG BUSY DURING EASTER VACATION

Dr. Isenberg, Vice President, spent the Easter vacation in charge of the pulpit of Grace Reformed Church, Altoona, Edwin N. Faye, Jr., '24, pastorelect. The congregation is very enthusiastic over their new pastor and are looking forward with great expectation to his coming after his graduation at Central Seminary next month.

While in Altoona Dr. Isenberg visited Rev. Beers at Martinsburg, W. H. Miller, Pavia, Bedford Co., and J. K. Wetzel at Juniata, together with friends of the institution. Mr. Wetzel leaves the pastorate of St. Paul's Reformed Church at Juniata to assume the pastorate of the Reformed church at Tremont, Pa., next month. (It is an interesting fact to know that the highest point in Pennsylvania is Blue Knob in the Alleghenies where there is a Reformed Church located of which Rev. W. H. Miller is pastor.)

Dr. Isenberg spent Sunday, the 2th, in St. John's Reformed Church, Red Lion, of which Dr. H. H. Long, '94, is pastor. Hon. T. E. Brookes, Vice President of our Board, is a member of this congregation. Ursinus has a host of friends in this vicinity.

C. C. N. Y. DEFEATS BEARS IN INITIAL CONTEST BY A 4-0 SCORE IN N. Y. CITY

Varsity Fails to Tally Thru Faulty Base Running and Inability to Hit in Crucial Moments

PITCHERS SHOW UP WELL

Playing their initial contest of the season on foreign loam the Ursinus nine was whitewashed by the City College of New York ball tossers on Saturday afternoon. The final count read 4-0 in favor of the New Yorkers.

The Bears were held to four scattered hits while Mink and Karpinnen, who toiled on the mound for Ursinus, yielded but one more bingle during the game.

The Bears passed up several chances to score by faulty baserunning and inability to hit in the pinches. In the fifth stanza after two were out, two bases on balls and an error filled the bases but Bigley hit into a force out. Again in the sixth Benner and Jones singled but no score resulted. In the eighth another Ursinus rally was smothered. Bigley, first batter, was hit by an alien pitcher and Francis doubled Bigley being put out at third. Benner walked and Jones hit to the pitcher for the second out. A base on balls filled the base paths but in a mix-up at third Benner was out.

Pitchers Look Good

Mink, who pitched the first three innings allowed only one hit and one run while Karpinnen in the remaining five innings yielded but three hits and three runs.

WOMEN'S DEBATING TEAMS HAVE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The second debating season for the women of Ursinus College drew to a close shortly before the unexpected Easter recess. Having established for themselves and their institution no mean reputation in their previous and first participation in intercollegiate forensics it remained for the maintenance of this precedent to be effected this year. Oftimes the zeal of a young enterprise dies away and what was really thought genuine fervor proves to have been but superficial enthusiasm; thus, the women of Ursinus had to attest to their own caliber and earnestness in having begun with such marked success their first intercollegiate debating.

Early in November the try-outs were held. The unusual interest manifested in debating was evidenced by the large number of contestants, eighteen aspiring varsity members. After the necessary eliminations and selection had been completed the varsity was lined up in the following manner: Affirmative—Miriam Ehret, captain; Lois Nickel, Ruth Eppheimer and Helen Ort, alternate. Negative—

Editorial Comment

VALEDICTORY

With this issue of the Weekly the present administration retires from office, making way for a new board of editors. It is with a feeling of confidence that the retiring members of the staff turn the paper over to the new management. The recently chosen group is composed of men of ability and the experience they should receive during the remaining weeks before June should enable them to produce a model sheet during the ensuing year.

It is not an occasion of farewells to all, however, for many engaged in this work will still go on. A year ago we took up the trail where our predecessors left off, to start out on a new venture for ourselves. Many things were expected of us which we could not fulfill and probably many of those things expected of us were not ours to give and on certain occasions favors were asked of us which we could not possibly grant. But we have perhaps dulled your disappointment by giving you other fields of thought.

We have considered it a singular honor to have been able to act in the capacity as an editorial board and to guide the destiny of so important a field of service for Ursinus. All the aid which has been given from executive officers and students from time to time during the college year is greatly appreciated. Being a publication controlled by an alumni association we might say that the Weekly staff was greatly disappointed in the co-operation received from that body. To those few who have shown an interest and offered constructive criticism we are indeed thankful. As for the rest we hope they will express a more manifest interest. Criticism often comes from those so far separated from the College that they are not familiar with established practices. Too many seem to judge those practices in terms of principles and then they cry aloud that certain practices must cease and certain visions be followed. The question then naturally follows as to which one is right. Is one side right and the other wrong? To make our progress complete each side must play its part. Human beings always differ but as we try to understand each other we will succeed.

And as we hand over the responsibility of the paper to a new group, it is with a realization that altho our efforts have not at all times met with success we have attempted to maintain the high standard of the Ursinus Weekly among other student publications. How well we have fared who have shared the great venture together we do not know. As we have enjoyed privileges which those before us lacked so you, the new staff will partake of benefits we never possessed. In the adventure ahead we appeal to you whose larger and broader outlook should give you greater opportunities for achievement. We sincerely hope that the work done in the future will bring the Weekly nearer to the ideal which has been set for it namely to make it the newspaper of Ursinus. That it shall be a mirror reflecting the activities of the College and shall relate in a fair, impartial and interesting manner "all the news that's fit to print."

If any value lies in what we have done it is because our doings are a striving for a greater Ursinus. You members of the new staff must not insist that the methods with which we provoked you into activity are the acceptable ones. If the things we did had merit they were merely good for us at the time and commensurate with our solving of the situations at hand. You must use your intelligence and experience in selecting the best rather than following a ritual.

To the incoming staff the writer wishes to say that we who have ended our venture have shared in its joys and profited by our experience. To you, the hazards of the quest and the joy of achievements lie all about you. In these few words an attempt has been made to show you the road on which you must travel. See that you seek the truth and that you make the search with common sense. You are now stepping forth on an adventure. Go out and play your part but be you worthy of the College which you represent.

RED AND BLACK SEXTET HAS SUCCESSFUL COURT SEASON

With the victory over Cedar Crest, at Allentown the curtain was rung down with unbounded joy on the basket ball season of the "Red and Black" sextet, for of the twelve games played the Ursinus co-eds suffered only three defeats, won seven games, and tied two. Against 229 points scored by their opponents the Ursinus girls can proudly say they scored 274. The record has been most praiseworthy and the achievements of the team have been noteworthy, winning much praise for the players and their coach Miss Helen Errett.

The team will lose only two members through graduation, Captain Mickey Johnson and Bernice Leo who have had enviable careers in basketball and hockey history, which leaves a promising array for next year.

McGarvey, Sietz and Alderfer were the bright stars who kept things humming on the "firing-line," and won well-deserved applause by their agility and prowess in tossing field goals that made it possible for the bird of victory to perch upon the "Red and Black" banner so often.

In the center zone were Emma Leo, Evelyn Lake and Vivian Waltman, who proved a powerful adjunct to the team in advancing the ball to the forwards and intercepting it when passed by their opponents.

In the backfield were Captain Johnson, Mabel Fritsch, and Betty Cornwell, who were a stonewall of defense in guarding the basket from the onslaughts of the enemy.

Much credit must be given Bernice Leo, Sally Hoffer, and Evelyn Cook, substitutes, who showed the real Ursinus spirit on and off the court.

The 'Sinus co-eds opened their season with a decisive victory, 27-11, over Philadelphia Normal. The game was distinguished by quick passing and fast playing, and the outlook for the season was very bright. Beaver College offered the first setback by the score of 22-13. The next two games were ties with Drexel and Rosemont. At Trenton, the local team played a hard game but due to the fine defensive play which was worked so effectively by Trenton's team Ursinus suffered a defeat 36-12.

The next five games were victories for the Ursinus girls. The rivals, who fell before the onslaughts of the Ursinus co-eds were Cedar Crest, Beaver, Schuylkill (two games), and Drexel. The Beaver game was the fastest and most thrilling contest of the season. It was marked by the adroit ability of the Ursinus forwards to jump and receive the ball and the fine defensive play effectively worked by the Ursinus guards. In the game with Temple, the "Red and Black" sextet offered unexpected resistance but lost the game 32-25. The final game was a decided victory over Cedar Crest 28-20.

The Tower Window

It is gratifying to note the progress in debating that has been made in and through Ursinus during the past half-dozen years. The development has been two-fold; intercollegiate and inter-scholastic.

There never has been a time when argumentative discourse was not an important intellectual diversion in this college. The beginnings were already at hand when Ursinus was founded fifty-seven years ago in the old Chi Rho Delta society of Freeland Seminary which had flourished for years in the exercise and promotion of forensics in that famous school. The Chi Rho Delta, as we understand the facts, really did not go out of existence when Freeland Seminary became the preparatory department of Ursinus, but like the school itself, was carried over into the newly formed college in 1870. It became the Schaff Literary Society. The Zwinglian Literary Society was founded soon thereafter. In these two societies, debates were prominent features of the weekly programs down through the decades and many an alumnus of Ursinus points back with satisfaction to training received in one or the other of them. In addition to the literary societies, which unhappily, it must be admitted, are not living up to the old time standards in this line of exercise, we have the smaller but more effective organizations known as the Men's Debating Club and the Women's Debating Club. There is finally an intercollegiate honor society to which are admitted persons who have achieved distinction in debating. These clubs put forth teams, especially coached, for taking part in intercollegiate contests and frequently win in discussing both the affirmative and negative sides of the subject. The women's debating teams of Ursinus have the exceptional honor this year of having won over all opponents in both affirmative and negative argument in a schedule which included only colleges of high rank.

The Interscholastic Debating League under the fostering care of the local clubs and especially under the guidance of Professor M. W. Witmer, coach of the men's teams, embraces some thirty of the larger high schools of eastern and southern Pennsylvania in which are enrolled, in the aggregate, more than 15,000 pupils. The League is organized into groups of four schools each and to the winner in each group the College presents a silk banner or an attractive bronze plaque. The winner in a series extending over three years becomes the permanent possessor of the trophy. By sponsoring these interscholastic debates, Ursinus College gives encouragement to the intellectual activities of the high schools and helps develop the latent abilities of the more promising pupils. From the schools themselves come many expressions of appreciation of this unique bit of public service rendered by the College.

In the nature of its constitution the Ursinus Interscholastic Debating League is capable of indefinite expansion. The schools themselves are given much freedom in the formation of groups.

Y. M.-Y. W.

A joint meeting of the Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. was held on Wednesday evening at which time Dr. Kline favored the gathering by a most interesting talk on Birds. Starting with the economical value of birds and tracing the different local families and their habits from the Woodpeckers, Fly Catchers, Swallows, Sparrows and Warblers to the smallest Wren and Thrush this connoisseur of birds pictured in a most vivid manner the lessons to be learned from these animals.

In conclusion the speaker brought forth three lessons to be learned from the birds namely their regularity and promptness, self-sacrifice and humility.

ALUMNI NOTES

Please send news about yourself and other alumni to the Alumni Editor. All news greatly appreciated.

Many alumni witnessed Zwing's anniversary play, "The Fool," which was presented on April 1.

Paul A. Mertz, Associate Professor of Education and Director of Teacher Training Extension, Eastern Division, Pennsylvania State College, has resigned his position to engage in training, research and personal work for the William Taylor Son and Company in Cleveland, Ohio. His resignation became effective on April 8. Mr. Mertz was graduated from Ursinus College with the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1910. He received the Diploma in Education and the Master of Arts degree from Teacher's College, Columbia University, in 1913. He pursued part time graduate work in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania from 1919 to 1924, where he is about to enter candidacy for the Doctor of Philosophy degree. His teaching and administrative experience have been in the Groszmann School (Herbert Hall), Plainfield, N. J., North Plainfield, N. J., High School, Frankford High School, Philadelphia, Girard College, Philadelphia, and in Ursinus and Pennsylvania State Colleges. Mr. Mertz took up the direction of teacher training extension duties for Pennsylvania State College in Eastern Pennsylvania in 1924, with headquarters in Harrisburg. Under his direction, the teacher training extension program of the college in this division has expanded from 14 classes with an approximate enrollment of 700 teacher-students to 5 classes with an enrollment in the semester just past of approximately 3,000 teacher-students. There are few second or third class school districts within the eastern area that have not been receiving service through this medium.

Thelma R. Wood, '21, is located at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn, where she is continuing to carry on Dr. A. M. Banta's research work in Genetics.

GAFF FROM THE GRIZZLY

About a year ago this column made its debut in The Ursinus Weekly. Today it will make its exit from the paper and with that thought in mind it is fitting that we should pause to celebrate the first anniversary of the Gaff. While still an infant Gaff showed signs of becoming a vital part of the paper its primary purpose being to instill in a humorous manner different episodes occurring on the campus in order to give the readers of the weekly something to peruse over.

To those who have failed to gain the significance of the thought contained herein from time to time we can only say we feel sorry for them. To those who have enjoyed it and derived some benefit from our words we congratulate them upon their intelligence for no apologies are made for any ideas provoked in our suggestions.

The editing of this column has been a constant source of enjoyment and diversion from the prosaic run of events. It has pleased us and we are satisfied. If it has pleased others we are gratified and if not we merely smile and pass on for "he that comiles against his will is of his own opinion still."

There is much we would have liked to have said which we thought better to omit our purpose however, being ever to offer constructive criticism.

With this thought in mind we bid all our readers a fond farewell.

STRING QUARTET TO FEATURE IN LYCEUM NUMBER, WED.

The fourth and final number on the Lyceum Course for the present year will take place in the form of a concert to be rendered by the Philharmonic String Quartet of Philadelphia on Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall.

Students will recall memories of the delightful concert given last year which was featured by the exceptional singing of Miss Jane Howell, soprano soloist, who will again be present at this occasion. The quartet is composed of Harry Oleinikoff, Louis Fish-zohn, Philip Neeter and Milton Printz, all of whom form a nucleus of the Philadelphia Orchestra reputed to be the best symphony orchestra in the world.

These artists of exceptional skill and talent together with Mr. William Sylvano Thunder who has on previous occasions favored Ursinus audiences with his exceptional ability at the piano will form the culmination of one of the most delightful entertainment courses held at Ursinus in years.

Women's Debating Teams

Mary Garber, Gladys Park, Elizabeth Miller, captain, and Bertha Weaver, alternate. The substituting alternate, Mary Weiss. The debating season, however, arranged by the manager, Ruth Eppehimer, did not begin immediately. As the result of chance happening the Negative team entered into exactly twice the number of debates in which the Affirmative disputed.

Among the personnel of the teams which enjoyed the rare privilege of having had a season of successive victories are found four T. K. A. members: Elizabeth Miller, Mary Garber, Ruth Eppehimer and Miriam Ehret. All of whom are Seniors, as well as the alternates, Helen Ort and Bertha Weaver. As a nucleus for next year's teams there are but two experienced debaters, Gladys Park and Lois Nickel.

The final tribute and ultimate source of this successful season rests in the advisor and coach, Dr. Elizabeth B. White, whose efforts made possible the opening of forensic relations with new colleges.

planned and arranged so perfectly that one easily forgets this criticism in his admiration for the book as a whole.

COLLEGE CO-EDS DEFEAT

CEDAR CREST IN FAST GAME

The basketball season of the "Red and Black" sextet came to a very successful conclusion Monday afternoon, March 28, when the Ursinus Co-eds triumphed over Cedar Crest, at Allentown, by the score of 28-20.

Captain Johnson, representing Ursinus for the last time in inter-collegiate athletics, distinguished herself as usual by her exceptional defensive ability.

McGarvey's accurate shooting accounted for nine field goals and placed her high scorer for Ursinus.

A field goal, by McGarvey, opened the game and was closely followed by a double decker by Alderfer. Hartman shot a foul and later added a field goal. McGarvey again broke into the scoring and by three field goals placed the score Ursinus 10, Cedar Crest 3 as the first quarter ended.

J. V.'S LOSE TO HILL SCHOOL IN CLOSE ENCOUNTER 6-4

Playing their first game of the season the Ursinus Jay-ees rallied after a poor start to hold the Hill School nine but could not overcome the early lead piled up against them and consequently lost 6-4.

Riordan, on the mound for the little Bears, pitched a nice game, allowing the Pottstown hitters but five safe hits but errors coupled with several bases on balls paved his downfall.

The Ursinus men in the meanwhile hit safely only five times also, three of these hits coming in the ninth when a rally netted them two runs. In this frame Cherin started off with a single and Pierson, batting for Jeffers, also singled. An error and Haas' single brought in two markers making the final count 6-4.

Zwinglian Production Most Successful

by Ruth Eppehimer, '27. The part of Jerry Goodkind, her husband, was well characterized by Owen Jones, '27; especially in the last scene his acting was extremely commendable. Earl Skinner, '27, as his father showed remarkable dramatic ability and interpreted his part in a most clever and capable manner.

The group of wealthy church people included Mrs. Henry Gilliam, Elizabeth Thomason, '29; her flapper daughter, "Dilly," Hope Dietrich, '27; Mrs. Thornbury, a divorcee of doubtful reputation, Isabel Johnson, '27; Mrs. Tice, Ruth Moyer, '28; and Charles Benfield, a typical business man, Robert Henkels, '27. The kind elderly clergyman, Dr. Wadham, was played by Samuel Reimert, '27, and the sexton, Mr. Barnaby, David Harrison, '29. Although not distinctly seen, Paul Wisler, '27, as a "Jew" lent his voice to an effective scene.

A striking contrast to this group was found among Gilchrist's later associates. Max Stedman, labor leader in the mines and also the "company detective" was cleverly presented by Russel Fox and his portrayal in this difficult role possessed keen originality and technique. The laborers Umanski by Herman Shreiner, '28, and Joe Hennig by Joseph Armento, '28, were realistically executed. Shreiner did exceptionally well and exemplified the part of a foreigner to perfection thru his clever gestures and affected accent.

Mary Margaret, the wistful little lame girl who is cured through her faith was realistically played by Agnes Lorenz, '28. Kathryn Reimert, '27, as Pearl Hennig participated in some tense moments during the play. Among the patrons of "Overcoat Hall" were "Grubby," William Ferguson, '29; "Mack," Henry Pyle, '30; Miss Levinson, Elizabeth Miller, '27; Mrs. Mulligan, Ethel Swain, '30; Mr. and Mrs. Henchley, Wilbur Clayton, '28, and Melba Farnsler, '28. The members of the howling mob deserve much credit for their dramatic performance. They were Lester Fort, '30, William McGarvey, '30, Josephine Riddell, Jane Bowler, Virginia Kressler, May Grimm, all '29; Theron Calkins, William Cain and Herbert Pearson, all '30.

Musical numbers were provided in an organ prelude by Helen Lucas, '28, piano solo, Mildred Alderfer, '30, vocal solo, Adeline Thomas, '27, and mandolin duet, Ruth Moyer, '28 and Cora Gulick, '28.

Too much credit can not be given to the play committees under the direction of Evelyn Hamm, '28, assistant coach. Paul Wisler '27, acted as business manager, while properties were in the charge of Lois Nickel, '28, assisted by David Harrison, '29, Oliver Nace, '27, acted as stage manager and prepared the stage setting, assisted by Peter Steele, '29. Art effects were by Aurelia English, '28, assisted by William Williams, '29, and Nelson Stuhlmiller, '29, served as electrician. Other committee chairmen were: Make up, Herman Shreiner '28 and Karl Thompson, '28; Costumes, Adeline Thomas, '27; Programs, Elizabeth Smith, '27; Decorations, Cora Gulick, '28, and Publicity, Harold Wiand, '28.

Men's Glee Club Gives Home Concert

ler's baritone showed fine qualities of resonance as he sang "I Am Fate."

The talented directress, Miss Hartenstine, who for the past four seasons has led the Men's Glee Club on every appearance deserves the greater part of the credit for the success and type of programs rendered this year. The remarkable results which she has obtained despite the lack of co-operation at many times indeed warrants merit of the highest order. The splendid way in which she can handle men and the high esteem in which she is held by the members of the club are indicative of a personage possessing unusual ability in directing organizations of such a sort.

The Club has three concerts scheduled for the near future. On Tuesday, April 26, they sing at the Pottstown High School, on Thursday, April 28, they give a concert in the Conshohocken High School. There is also a concert scheduled by Manager Henkels for the evening of May 12, at the Roxborough High School.
